iQue Competition Barbecue Team Wins Jack Daniel's World Championship in Lynchburg, Va.

The competition barbecue team that Ed Doyle, President of RealFood Consulting Inc, is a member of wins, the 2009 Jack Daniel's World Championship of BBQ in Lynchburg, Va.

Boston, Mass, October 24, 2009: Competing at the Jack Daniel's World Championship for the seventh time, iQue emerged Grand Champion over sixty-three championship teams from the U.S. and 18 teams from Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, England, Estonia, Germany, Luxemburg, Poland, Puerto Rico and Switzerland that fought for the title.

The BBQ team founded by Tremont 647 Boston restaurant owner is lead by pit boss Chris Hart comprised of team members Ed Doyle of RealFood Consulting Inc, Ken Goodman of RealFood Consulting Inc, John Delpha, Vermont's Belted Cow restaurant owner, Jamie Hart and Dave Frary. The team has competed on the New England and national circuit for eleven years.

"I've been working for 10 years cooking barbecue every single weekend and this is my dream - my absolute dream," said Chris Hart, chief cook of I Que. "To win the Jack is the ultimate experience in barbecue."

"RealFood has been working with BBQ operators for years, counting many of the top operators as clients. We couldn't ask for a better way to validate, we really know what we are talking about" says RealFood President Ed Doyle.
